October 3, 2006

Attention: All Certified Firms

Good News! In an effort to enhance our level of services to the small business community, the Department of Business Development (DBD) is pleased to announce that effective October 2nd, 2006, Miami-Dade County will no longer charge a certification fee for new and/or re-certification applications in any of the small or disadvantaged programs we currently administer. Please be advised however, that applications received prior to October 2nd, 2006 will be processed under our prior fee schedule.

Future enhancements to our operations will include, but not be limited to developing and implementing an on-line application form that will be posted on our website and streamlining our internal processes and procedures in the hope of making your experience with us more convenient.

If you have any questions or would like to provide comment, please feel free to contact the Business Assistance Division at (305) 375-3111.

Sincerely,

Marsha E. Jackman, Director
Department of Business Development
